

2023 Copper Inventory

Post-pandemic production and supply chain management has been an ongoing struggle within our industry. With the end in sight, production rates are steadily increasing - which means that we have more copper, and you should too.

Matt Mitchel here, I am married and have 3 young daughters, so my time at Southern Copper is valuable- a vacation within itself. When you place an order with Southern Copper you keep me busy!

"I want to cut your next copper order"
