April Showers brings May's Machined Products

Let us paint the picture for you; Quarter 2, nearing summer of 2023. Temperatures are rising, and so is the inability to resist machining copper.

Copper Machining Slander

We have been in this industry for over 35 years. Many of us have heard that machining Copper can be gummy, or have a high plasticity and toughness.

The good news is, we love machining Copper so you don't have to.

Our Machinists are knowledgeable, experienced, and detail oriented. While those are traits you might typically try to avoid when searching for a partner, they are great characteristics when it comes to who is manufacturing your parts.

Our expansive inventory of Copper alloys allows us to cut out shipping times entirely, and jump straight into machining your parts the same day your order is placed.
